

The Royal Society
of Western Australia

The Royal Society of Western Australia is pleased to announce that:
The Journal of the Royal Society of Western Australia is now open access (and free to publish in)

The Journal of the RSWA evolved from precursor publications dating back to 1899. Our latest volume is Volume 101 - yes, that's over 100 years of publications on natural sciences in Western Australia.

If you are interested in publishing your local research in this venerable publication, please follow links on our website, under the Publications tab. With energetic new editorship, and an influx of new papers stemming from our successful 2018 Symposium "Landscapes, Seascapes and Biota: unique Western Australia past, present and future," the journal is going from strength to strength. It is an excellent forum for more WA-centric natural science studies.

The publication is now open access, and free to authors.

Those interested in the history of the Society can read about here.
